It was thought that when the Scotch chemist announced his ability to manufacture real diamonds, these gems would not hereafter be confined exchairely to the shirt fronts of botel clerks and mercantile drummers; but Mr. Hannay, the inventor of the new diamonds, deenes the hope of the public to the ground. The manufactured brilliants cost more than the natural stones from South Africa or natural stones from South Africa or Brazil. Hotel clarks and drummers may thus hold the rest of mankind under the heel of the grinding monopoly.

GOVERNOR MURRAY. The HERALD unites with the people of Utah in extending a hearty welcome to our new chief executive, Governor Murray. His excellency has passed but one day in Utah, and, we are pleased to say, has very favorably impressed those who have been fortunate, enough to make his acquaintance. The circumstance of his appointment was not welcome news to the many here, all but a few of the people, regardless of party, being favorably disposed towards Governor Emery, and earnestly desirous for his continuance in the office. However, when the change was made, it was gratifying to everybody that all of the prominent applicants for the man chosen; and it was specially pleasing that the choice bad fallen upon so distinguished a person as General Murray. The Governor comes here with an excellent reputation for honesty, ability and integrity. He has held high and responsible offices in both the military and civil departments of the government, and as a private citizen he ranks among the first people of his city and state. The excellent record that he has made for himself will be accepted as a guarantee that he is fully qualified to perform the duties.

The position is not a hard one to occupy, nor the requirements of the place difficult to satisfy unless the incumbent chooses to make them so. While the office in one sense is important, the occupant is powerless for good or with care; facts will be developed in in evil except as his official position gives weight to his individual ideas and suggestions. For forty days every two years, the Governor is all potent in the matter of approving or rejecting new legislation. After the adjourned of the Assembly his excellency may lead an easy life, so far as the ordinary business of the office is and referred:

Lagan—Certainly; of course I do not excellently and expeditious speed, involved great additional expenditures on the part of the contractors, which they would not have entered into if they thought there was any possibility of an abrogation of the contracts, except for such causes as the extension of rail-roads, etc. He also remarked, congives weight to his individual ideas the ordinary business of the office is concerned. Governor Murray comes here at a good time. The legislative section is over, and he has not been placed in the embarrassing position of having to pass upon the merits and demerits of any proposed laws, while ignorant of the needs of the community in that respect. It would have been a miracle had he come here during the session of the Legislature, and escaped doing something to afterwards occasion regret on his part. He will have ample time to become acquainted with affairs before the next meeting of the Amembly, and abould he se here then can act intelligently and with less danger of running against snage. The social and political condition of the territory is in a state approaching nearer to absolute peace than has been known here for some time past. There is little quarreling over religious or social questions, the courts seem to appreciate more fully their true position, and understand better their proper relations to the government and individuals, and altogether the outlook for a period of peace and prosand political condition of the territory look for a period of peace and pros-

The Death-rate of

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignifican origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every-day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it, and often find too late, that a Fever or Lung trouble has already set in.
